10 Quick Ways to Save $50 This Month

Saving an extra $50 a month is easier than you think — here are quick, actionable moves you can make this week.

1. Trim one subscription for $10–15 — pause it for a month and test how much you miss it.
2. Use a price tracker (we included one!) to watch a big purchase and buy when it hits your target.
3. Shop store apps for digital coupons before you checkout — stack them with sales.
4. Switch one weekly takeout to a homemade meal and put the saved money directly into a 'deal fund.'
5. Use cash-back portals for any online shopping (always start from the portal).
6. Buy generic brands for 2 pantry staples this month — compare ingredients and save.
7. Clean out your pantry/fridge and plan meals around what you already have.
8. Wait 48 hours before impulse buys — most impulse purchases disappear after a day.
9. Price match items at the store when possible (bring the competitor ad or screenshot).
10. Set a $50 target and automate a tiny transfer to a savings account — you’ll build the habit fast.

Want a printable checklist of these steps + the price tracker? Grab the Starter Savings Kit at DelulusDeals.com/downloads.